

Tilly The Cat's Road to Recovery

Cat lover Carole's dreams of owning a healthy cat were dashed when she discovered that Tilly suffered from wet eczema.

Thankfully Carole's cat has not looked back since feeding Verm-X Herbal Crunchies for Cats, the natural way to manage internal parasite control.

When Carole first discovered Tilly, an abandoned outdoor cat who had come to live in her garden, she decided to take her under her wing, feed her, worm her and provide her with a fully insulated Kat Kabin for winter.

However, living outdoors and with a long haired coat took its toll on Tilly's skin, causing her to develop skin irritations.

Like all conscientious pet owners Carole decided to follow the usual practice and visit the vets. After a thorough examination it was confirmed that Tilly had a condition known as wet eczema. Carole explained: "The vet gave her injections and creams which helped but did not cure the condition. I discovered Verm-X after buying four garden hens and using the Liquid Poultry product on them. I was so impressed with the product ingredients because they are natural, that I ordered some herbal crunchies for cats for Tilly."

Carole administered Verm-X Herbal Crunchies for Cats to Tilly by feeding her two treats a day. "I read a story about a German Shephard with skin problems and the penny dropped," continued Carole. "I realised that Tilly hadn't needed to see the vet this year for her wet eczema because her skin is now completely clear and in great condition. I haven't changed Tilly's diet or given her anything different apart from the Verm-X Herbal Crunchies. I am thrilled.

"I would highly recommend Verm-X to anyone as a result of my experience. It is wonderful to find a product that is natural, works and does not have any nasty side effects. Verm-X is an absolute boon and well worth the investment!"

Verm-X Cat Crunchies are a super premium treat with the added Verm-X feline formula. The palatable biscuits are fed on a daily basis throughout the year, providing effective internal parasite control for your cat.

They are made with only the best unadulterated ingredients.
